

Newburgh Beach Bash 10K - Saturday, 22nd March 2025

The tenth edition of the Newburgh Beach Bash 10K took place on a wet and miserable Saturday, marking a decade of this hugely popular multi-terrain event.

Organised superbly by the Newburgh Dunes Running Club and generously supported by many local businesses and organisations, the race once again attracted a strong field of runners keen to test themselves over the varied course.

The Beach Bash is known for its mix of challenging terrain, firm tracks, grassy paths, and a stretch along the beach, all combining to make it a memorable and testing 10k.

The club was represented by Brian Urquhart and Wilson Willox, both tackling the V60 category. Brian had an excellent run, securing 3rd V60, while Wilson followed closely with a strong performance to finish 6th V60.

A special mention goes to the organisers and volunteers who once again delivered a fantastic event. Ten years on, the Beach Bash continues to be a highlight of the local racing calendar, a great mix of competitive racing and community spirit.

We look forward to seeing the event thrive for another decade!
